DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 63-65 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

3. Claims 63-65 recite "a data control logic circuit for controlling a transfer of data ... and respectively transmitting block erase commands..." The specification fails to support the data control logic circuit. The controller (31 in Figures.1A, 1B, 2, 6 and 7) can controlling a transfer of data and transmitting block erase command but this controller is not a part of the flash memory card (33) as claimed in the claims 63-65. The controller is outside of the flash memory card and controls the flash memory card through connectors (35 and 39). The circuit (220) in Figure.3A does not control a transfer of data. That circuit transfers erase address and erase commands only.

Figures 6-8 do not disclose any thing about erase circuit.

4. The specification also fails to disclose an address control logic circuit for managing addresses and for respectively transmitting chip enable signal to at least two of the plurality of flash memory partitions including the physical blocks to be erased. The address control logic circuit transmits chip enable signals to selected chips containing tagged physical blocks to be erased only, not to all flash memory chips. The erase circuit 220 (in Figure 3A) transmits a global erase command to all flash memory chips (see page 10, lines 32-35). For example the specification said that “after all sectors intended for erase have been selected, the controller then issues to the circuit 220, as well as all other chips in the system a global erase command in line 251”.
